way hastily with others to the deck and went at once on the Carrel. I did not venture back to get even my hat. I had barely time as it was to save myself. But there was no panic—no rushing nor tramp-ling over each other. The men stood by and permitted the women to pass first and then got aboard the Carrel, the last of them just as she was backing away to avoid danger from the wreckage of the Longfellow."

Portions of the wrecked vessel have been found and landed several miles below, and it is possible that some small portion of the freight may be saved, but the company has already arranged to take such of the passengers who desire to make the trip on the Buckeye State, which will leave to-morrow, and go through to New Orleans. The loss of baggage, however, will seriously interfere with the movements of passengers. Divers will at once search the wreck to save whatthen got aboard the Carrel, the last of them

EXPLOSION ON A STEAMER. Two Men Bruised and Burned on the Bawnmore. SAN FRANCISCO, March 8 .- A terrific explosion on the tank steamer Bawnmore, lying at the Arctic oil works dock, at the Portreri, caused great excitement in that section of the city this evening. Two men were terribly bruised and burned, receiving mortal injuries, and the vezsel was badly strained. Everything on board was thrown into the greatest confusion. The Bawamore recently arrived from Peru with a cargo of crude petroleum, consigned to J. Grace & Co. The cargo having been discharged, two workmen, carrying a candle, went to the tanks this afternoon to clean out. Instantly the explosion came, shaking the steamer from stem to stern, twisting the tanks out of position and smashing the surrounding woodwork. The two workmen were carried out in an inseasible condition.

The Stranded Venetian. BOSTON, March 8 .- The stranded steamer Venetian, of the Furness line, which ran aground on Lower Middle Ledge in this harbor while leaving for London, on Saturday, lies in almost the same position as that in which she struck. The vessel is hopelessly damaged and the wreck will hopelessly damaged and the wreck will have to be destroyed as the great openings which have appeared in her hull are gradually growing wider. A large amount of cargo, including 500 quarters of beer, quantities of leather and hay has been taken out of the hold. The grain in the cargo is spolled and will not be taken out. The total value of the cargo of the Venetian was placed at $278,600. Of this amount $27,600 was in hond, and the remainder was was in bond, and the remainder was estic exports.

FIGHT BETWEEN GRIFFO AND DIME DECLARED A DRAW.

Eight Fast and Furious Rounds Before 3,500 Boston Sports-Many Hard Blows Given and Taken.

BOSTON, March 8 .- At Music Hall tonight, in the presence of 3,500 people, young Griffo, the famous Australian feather weight, and Jimmy Dime, of Amsterdam, N. Y., the 135-pound champion of America, fought eight rounds under rules which required the battle to be declared a draw if each man was on his feet at the close of the eighth round. As these conditions were fulfilled, hono's were even, although throughout the contest Griffo showed his superiority, leading and landing where and when he pleased. Dime, considering the punishment he received in the face and breast, made a clever showing. He seemed slightly overtrained.

A COUNTY SEAT WAR

IT AFFORDS GREAT ENTERTAIN-MENT FOR PEOPLE OF SALEM.

Bloodhounds Track Barn Burners Who Escape-Former Rockport Man Sentenced to Hang in Arkansas.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SALEM, Ind., March 8 .- The Crawford county seat war in the courts here goes steadily on. This is the fifth day and only about 125 witnesses have testified out of the large number subpoenaed. All these are from the Leavenworth side of the case, and it looks as if they were playing a game of freeze-out. Over three hundred witnesses have been summoned and the list is being added to daily. It is believed that at least four hundred witnesses in this case from Crawford and adjoining countles will be brought here to testify before the case is through. About sixty on each side are here all the time and it is a great effort to keep the belligerants separated. There is a committee for each side of five people who are especially delegated to keep the peace among their respective followers, to see that none becomes intoxicated. No bitter arguments are tolerated on the streets. Knots of these men are seen day and night on the streets discussing the trial. These committees have so located their men that Leavenworth witnesses are in that part of town south of the public square and English people are located north of the public square. If the witnesses on the Leavenworth side are to be believed every trick and resort known or that could be conjured up has been used by English to get petitioners for the removal of the county seat from Leavenworth. Several witnesses testified that the instructions of the committee were for the men to go three in a bunch, and if a citizen would not put his name on petition, place it there anyway, and that three men could outswear one. English people in turn do everything to impeach this evidence, going so far as to have secured the indictment and jailing on trumped up charges of some of these important witnesses in order to break their committees have so located their men that portant witnesses in order to break their testimony. The war is very bitter and there may be personal encounters before it is all over. The case will last at least ten

CARTER'S BLOODHOUNDS. Traced Barn Burners Through Madison Into Delaware County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., March 8 .- The Seymour bloodhounds last night had a long chase in their effort to locate the guilty parties who fired farmer Allen's barn Wednesday night. A big crowd had congregated at the Allen home, and was awaiting the arrival of Sheriff Starr, Chief of Police Coburn and Mr. Carter, of Seymour, with the dogs. When the dogs were given the scent, then twentyfour hours old, they at once started off on run. They went directly from the woods where the horses were found tied, emerged on the road and thence to the Allens' home. Rushing through the yard to the place where the barn stood, and, after making a circle they returned to the woods, where the trail seemed lost. Finally it was caught again, and off the dogs went, followed by nearly two hundred people from the neighborhood, as well as from Anderson, attracted by the novel performance. After crossing a wheat field and following the road for a mile the hounds struck the Big Four railroad and followed it to Daleville, where they stopped, and Mr. Carter insisted that here was the point where the parties had boarded the train. The party was brought back to Anderson from Daleville, reaching here about 2 o'clock this morning. It is feared that the failure to apprehend the guilty parties will only increase their acts of lawless-ness in that vicinity. The farmers' associa-tion has employed a detective to work on the

SENTENCED TO HANG. Second Trial of an Indiana Man for Murder in Arkansas.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ROCKPORT, Ind., March 8 .- Jesse H. Jones, son of Charles Jones, of Euerka, this county, was found guilty of murder in the first degree at Ozark, Ark., last Saturday. He was charged with the murder of two Hibden brothers, in February, 1894. He was tried a short time after the crime, was committed and sentenced to be hanged, but by the aid of friends in this State a new by the aid of friends in this State a new trial was granted. The day of execution has not yet been fixed. The Hibden brothers dealt largely in horses and kept bachelor's hall. Jones was employed by them as cook. After making a large shipment of horses and getting returns therefor the Hibden brothers were murdered in their own cabin, after which the cabin was set on fire and burned down over the bodies. Jesse Jones was at the home of a neighbor at the time the deed was alleged to have been done. All the proof in the case was circumstantial. Jesse Jones is about twenty-four years old, and always bore a good name at his Indiana home.

NO GAS AT FORT WAYNE. Double Break in the Mains Causes No End of Trouble.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 8 .- Every natural-gas fire in the city went out at 4 o'clock this morning, caused by a break in the main pipe sixteen miles south, near Kingsland, Wells county, and it was 1 o'clock this afternoon before the break was repaired. The supply came on strong until 4 o'clock, when the supply again ceased, caused by a break which has not yet been located. The city will have to go without gas until some time to-morrow. To-night coal wagons are rushing about the city, but cannot begin to fill orders. Two-thirds of the families in the city are cold suppers and many will have cold breakfasts.

The Bride in Hysterics. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 8 .- The sixteenyear-old bride, who the other day created a sensation in Police Court by swearing that her husband was a wizard and had placed "spelis" on her which were inhuman and severe, is now lying at her home in a critical condition, the result, she avers, of her husband's evil power over her. She refuses to go near her aged husband, but her friends say he keeps her in as power and subjects her to intense suffering. She has been in hysterics for the past two days and her attenting physician says unless she can be induced to believe that her husband has released her from his influence has well die or become a manier. fluence she will die or become a maniac. While, of course, but few believe the old man a wizard yet much apprehension is felt for the young girl, who is suffering intensely from a mistaken idea.

Muncie Jall Prisoners Strike.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., March 8 .- The twenty-five prisoners confined in the county jail here refused to go to work this morning on the stone pile. The trouble was a matter of bread and butter. They claimed that Sheriff Sherry was not feeding them with the plentiful and wholesome food due a man when he is working for his board. Superintendent Frankheim made a little speech, in which he informed the men that they must each one file into a separate cell and there remain alone, with only a limited quantity of bread and water as nourishment, until they were ready to go to work. Nine of the men are tramps in jail for vagrancy, and six others are malleagie iron workers. Sheriff Sherry says the men are fed bread and butter, meat patences rise and other wood food. meat, potatoes, rice and other good food

To Prevent Gas Explosions. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, Ind., March 8 .- The directors of the Citizens' Gas Company, of this city, adopted a plan last night which it is thought will hereafter prevent gas explosions from leaks in the mains. They will construct a series of manholes for the entire system, locating the manholes over the connections of the large mains, where all the trouble thus far has been encountered. The manholes will be constructed similar to those in sewer tions, and covered with perforated steel lids that will permit the gas to escape if the joints pull apart by contraction.

Child Bled to Death. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKFORT, Ind., March 8.-The sixyear-old child of William Spigle, a farmer residing six miles south of this city, died last evening under peculiar circumstances. A few days ago it fell, striking on its mouth with sufficient force to knock out a tooth. The wound began to bleed, and though a physician was summoned, the flow of blood could not be stopped and the child bled to death. A few weeks ago a younger child of Mr. Spigle died in the same manner, the bleeding being caused in this instance by a pin scratch

WRECKED IN GEORGIA

FLORIDA VESTIBULED TRAIN DE-RAILED AND OVERTURNED.

Mother and Girl Killed, but a Nursing Babe Saved-Roland Reed and Members of His Company Injured.

MACON, Ga., March 8 .- One of the worst railroad wrecks that has occurred in this section for many years took place at Scotland, Ga., this morning. The Florida vestibuled train from Atlanta to Brunswick and Jacksonville, running at the rate of fifty miles an hour, struck a misplaced switch, The entire train was derailed and nearly every car was thrown upon its side. The train was crowded with passengers bound for Florida, and the fact that only two of these lost their lives is considered marvelous. Mrs. C. H. Subers, of Pickens, Miss., and her five-year-old daughter were killed. Of the remainder five or six received severe bruises and sprains, but the majority were only slightly injured. There were three Pullman cars on the train, one of which was occupied almost entirely by the Roland Reed Theatrical Company, which was to have opened in Jacksonville to-night. It was here that the greatest number of the injured were found. Mr. Reed had his back and leg badly injured. Other members of the company injured were: Miss Mary Myers, New York. severely wrenched in back and shoulders; James Douglass, Brooklyn; Miss Isadore Rush, New York, and Julian Reed, Philadelphia, all slightly injured. The company canceled its date at Jacksonville and returned to Atlanta. In one of the other Pullman's Mr. and Mrs. Hoffner, of Elivia, O., Mrs. H. O. Morton, Cincinnati, and W. R. Bernan, of New York, were slightly in-

Mrs. Subers and her young daughter, who were killed, were in the forward car, which received the first full shock of the derailment. Singularly enough Mrs. Subers's nursing babe, carried in her arms, was uninjured by the shock that crushed out its mother's life, and was found after the wreck still clinging to her silent form. The male passengers who were able to do so worked hard to rescue their less fortunate companions from the upturned and cued three of the imprisoned ladies. The cause of the accident evidently lay in the switch, but as the latter was badly wrecked it is believed that the switch had been tampered with, but whether carelessly or with evil intent cannot be learned at present.

ENGINEER NUFFER'S STORY.

How the Recent Wreck in Mexico Happened-Havoc of an "Ironclad." LAREDO, Tex., March 8,-Engineer John Nuffer, the American wh sible by many in Mexico for the terrible wreck on the Interoceanic railway Feb. 25 last, is in the city and tells the following story: He was pulling the first section of an excursion train which was returning to Mexico City. There were fifteen coaches in his section. At Tenango, forty-eight kilometers out of the city, he stopped to kilometers out of the city, he stopped to take on wood which was a 11:46 o'clock. He was crowded out by the second pection. The accident occurred at 12:96 o'clock, twenty minutes after he had left Tenango, in which time had run only seven kilometers. This, if true, proves that the train was not running at a high rate of speed as has been charged. At the point of a curve the fourth coach left the track, having broken an axle. This set the automatic brakes of the engine and the first three coaches did not go forward more than twenty feet. The third coach behind the one which left the track was what is known as an English ironciad, the frame work being of steel and the sides of iron. This coach plowed through the two coaches in front of it and caused the havoc which cost many passengers their lives. The passengers in this coach all escaped.

"As soon as the accident occurred," said Nuffer, "I went to the rescue of the sufferers, and while engaged in doing all I could to relieve their suffering, was warned that I had better get away from the scene, as some of the young men threatened to kill me because they had lost their relatives in the wreck, I was fired on and slightly wounded in the hip. I immediately left the scene and escaped to Mexcto City from whence I came to the United States. Had I not been a Mason I could never have gotten out of the country. I am in receipt of a telegram from Mr. Jackson, president of the Interceeanic company to the effect that they do not hold me responsible for the accident. Mr. Sullivan, superintendent of the line, was on the train when the accident occurred. To my knowledge there are no charges pending against me in Mexico." take on wood which was a 11:46 o'clock.

OVER 20,000 MEN OUT.

Situation Yesterday in the Pittsburg Coal Mining District. PITTSBURG, March 8.-There is little change in the miners' strike in the Pittsburg district. The men are holding out for the 69-cent rate and reject all compromises. About 1,000 men have been granted their demands and are at work, but this is the case only at a few mines which are running to supply the local demand. It is now estimated that out of over 20,000 miners in the district about 4,000 have refused to join in the srike and are at work at 55 cents per ton or less. As predicted last night, the Robbins Company miners in the first pool quit work to-day, although they were under contract and will likely lose the 10 per cent. in wages held back by the com-pany according to the agreement.

A private meeting of the railroad coal operators committee will be held to-mor-row to consider the advisability of calling a row to consider the advisability of calling a convention of the association to discuss the situation. The harmony scheme of the operators may be disrupted through the concessions of those of its members who have broken faith and those to follow suit in granting the demands of the men. The defections yesterday and to-day demonstrate that a working combination among the operators will be difficult to effect. The operators generally say that the break will only be temporary and all will be back to the 55-cent rate in a few days. The big operators will not attempt to do anything until the late season opens, which is six weeks off. Cordage Works Closed.

NEW YORK, March 8.-The cordage works of William Wall & Sons, in Willlamsburg, have been shut down and all the employes discharged. The plant during the last few years has been controlled by the Cordage Trust. Nearly 1.000 people were employed. It was started more than fifty years ago. It was said to-day that the large area of ground occupied by the factory will be cut into building lots.

Police Justice Dismissed. NEW YORK, March 8.-The charges against Police Justice Quigley for failure to properly discharge his duties fluring the recent strike have been sustained in the general term of the Supreme Court, Kings county, Justice Brown presiding. The decision rendered to-day dismisses Quigley from his office. Weavers' Wages Advanced. PHILADELPHIA, March S .- Bromley Brothers have granted their art square weavers an advance of 6 per cent. in both places. 200,000 Employes to Be Locked Out. LONDON, March 8 .- Owing to the complicated dispute as to the use of machinery and other matters, the members of the National Federation of Boot Manufacturers have notified the operatives to stop work on March 16. This action affects 20,000 employes throughout the country, including 20,000 in Leicester, 9,000 in Northampton and 7,000 in Bristol. The employers refused to consider overtures for the arbitration of the matters in dispute, stating that the operatives had ignored the previous decisions of arbitrators.

LOOTED BY PATRIOTS

TOWN OF VINALES, CUBA, CAPTURED AND THE TREASURY ROBBED.

Forty Guards Killed by Rebels-Troops on the Way from Spain-General Foreign News.

TAMPA, Fla., March 8 .- Dr. Pal, of Key West, in a letter to Senor Figuerdo, by last night's ship, states that Vinales was attacked Monday by two hundred insurgents. Forty of the civil guards were killed and a lot of arms and ammunition taken. Later in the day the city treasury was visited and the funds therein confiscated. Vinales is in the Vuelta Abajo district, about thirty miles south of Havana. This outbreak will cause more trouble in that vicinity, and it was a part of the plan. In every province except Puerto Principe the organization was perfect, and each district was under the control of some general of the former revolution.

Spanish Soldiers on the Way. MADRID, March 8 .- The work of dispatching reinforcements to the army in Cuba is now fully under way. To-day the steamer Alfonso XIII started from Barcelona for a Cuban port, having on board two battalions of infantry. Large crowds gathered along the route from the barracks to the wharf where the Alfonso XIII was lying, and the soldiers, as they marched along, were greeted with cheers and patriotic cries. At the wharf the military bands played patriotic airs. A battalion left bands played patriotic cars. bands played patriotic airs. A battalion left Madrid to-day for Cadız, where it will embark for Cuba. On the way to the railway station the troops defiled before the palace, from a window of which the Queen Regent watched their departure. Subsequently they passed the building in which the Cortes sits. The members of the Chamber of Deputies enthusiastically cheered the soldiers as they marched past, as did also the dense crowds that lined the entire route.

A "1492" ACTRESS SAYS SHE SLAPPED COUNT DE CASTELLANE.

Gertrude Corey Tells How She Resented an Insult Offered Ninette Burduin in New York.

CHICAGO, March 8 .- It was the hand of Trilby, the "1492" Trilby, now at the Columbia Theater in this city, that smote the face of Count De Castellane and caused his noble blood to surge all over his outraged countenance. The facts were just learned here to-day. Trilby says she slapped him, and slapped him good and hard. Trilby, to be exact, is Miss Gertrude Corey, and she poses as Trilby in a living picture in "1492." "It was not on account of myself, but of my chum. Ninette Burduin, that I struck him," said Miss Corey. "She was always a delicate girl, and somehow I fell into the habit of defending her at all times." Miss Corey here stopped to explain that her friend, Miss Burduin, is now at her home in Albany, where she is said to be dying of consumption. Continuing, she said: "He made an offensive remark to her said: "He made an offensive remark to her and it occurred in my rooms on Thirty-first street. New York, between Broadway and Fifth avenue. I asked him to repeat it, saying I thought I did not quite understand him. He repeated it and I, well, I have a quick temper," she said, as if in extenuation, "and quick as a flash I had slapped him on his left cheek. His face flushed and he said, grinding his teeth:

"If you were a man I would kill you."

"Play I am a man if you like," I said, but so long as you admit I am not a man you must take for granted that I am a lady.

ou must take for granted that I am a lady These are my rooms. If the people here d not suit you, there is the door." "What the Count said was really not so bad, but I really think I took extra offense bad, but I really think I took extra offense because he was a count. You know, we do not care much for that sort of thing. We may be Rohemians; we don't claim to be anything else, but we are Americans and we are independent. After I struck him." she continued, coming back to her subject, "he began looking for his hat. And as he went out of the door, Ninette threw after him a big bunch of pink and white roses, three dozen of them, which he had sent up in the afternoon. We had had a little dinner party as we often do, after the theater. But the dinner was over and the trouble was that the Count thought he ought to have all the attention, I suppose, because he was a count, and my friend did not care for him and turned her back to talk to one of the others present. After it occurred, the men others present. After it occurred, the men who were with him, an attorney and two Englishmen, stayed and tried to chat a little while as if nothing had happened. Then they left."

EXHIBITION OF PORTRAITS. The Pickett Society of the Fourth Presbyterian Church gave a novel exhibit yesterday afternoon and last evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Dean, No. 673 North Meridian street. It was a collection of portraits; some very rare and valuable. There were finely painted pictures of Gov. T. A. Hendricks, Governor Baker, pictures of Governor Whitcomb and of Mrs. Whitcomb, quaint portraits of the grandparents of Mrs. V. K. Hendricks, and silhouettes of the sixth generation of the ancestors of Mrs. Edward Dean, pictures by Jacob Cox, the pioneer artist and of ham, old citizens like Dr. Winslow Pierce, Mr. Vinton, the father of the late Dr. Thomas B. Harvey, an old painting of John Dean, two portraits painted by Mr. T. C. Steele, which have never been exhibited before. Prof. J. B. Roberts is represented by several pictures, one when he was a babe in arms and one when he was three years old, riding a hobby horse. The "Vinton twins," now known as Mrs. H. D. Pierce, of this city, and Mr. Lynn vmton, was shown. In the south room there is a collection of pictures of children. A water color of Charlotte Scott, painted by Miss Isabel Edgar in Rome, colored photographs of Mrs. John N. Carey's four daughters and a set of three pictures of Mrs. J. F. Pratt's daughters, Lois and Ruth, are in this collection. Mrs. Robert Dorsey's little daughter is another pretty one. There are numerous old daguerreotypes—one of Mrs. A. W. Hendricks, when she was a young woman, one of Miss Catherine Merrill as a young girl. A picture of Morgan Hendricks, the cally child of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hendricks, is also in the room, Miss Sue Ketcham has painted several of the pictures and Mrs. Lotta Guffin several. Mr. Steele, Mr. Freeman, Mr. Cox and other portrait artists have work there. In the dining room there is a varied list of piccures by nome artists, Mr. Perkins, Miss Robinson, Miss Hendricks and others. The exhibit is one of great interest in many ways. To see the advance in portrait painting is a study. There are the black and gold silhouettes of two centuries ago. Portraits on ivory that will be artistic and beautiful in centuries to come. The daguerreotype, when well preserved, makes a good picture. The great difficulty with them is that they have to be in a certain light before they are distinct. Mrs. V. K. Hendricks is president of the society, and assisted with Mrs. Dean and the young women, who are the more members in doing the honors. Cox, the pioneer artist and of him, old citizens like Dr. Winslow Pierce, Mr. Vintinct. Mrs. V. K. Hendricks is president of the society, and assisted with Mrs. Dean and the young women, who are the members, in doing the honors. Light refreshments were served. The exhibit will be open to-day till 3 this afternoon. The proceeds to-day will be applied to the building fund of the church.

MRS. OWEN'S RECEPTION. Mrs. W. D. Owen, wife of the Secretary of State, gave a handsome reception yesterday afternoon at the Denison to the ladies of the hotel, those who have been here during the General Assembly, and a number of other friends. Her special guests for the day, who also assisted her, were Mrs. Nellie G. Scott, of Shelbyville; Mrs. C. I. Williams and Mrs. Merry, of Dayton, O.; Mrs. John W. Lovett, of Anderson, and Mrs. Hert, of Brazil. Mrs. J. N. Huston, who was expected, was detained at the last hour. Mrs. Owen, a charming hostess, who has spent several winters in Washington society, wore a handsome gown of striped brocade and moire, with a waist of white accordion-platted China silk, trimmed with duchesse lace. Mrs. Scott wore a black satin and jet gown and dainty lace, and Mrs. Williams a rich gown of white satin, with a French flower in pink. Mrs. Merry wore a light blue striped crepe and a pink ostrich feather boa. Mrs. Lovett's gown was a brown silk with changeable effect, and Mrs. Hert wore a black accordion-platted net over silk. An orchestra was stationed in the hall and played during the reception hours. The parlors were tastefully decorated with a profusion of palms and pink and white carnations. In one room orangeade was served and in another the tea table was set. Carnations and ferns were scattered over the cloth, and the lights were from pink candles in exquisite take or candelabra. A pretty effect was an J. N. Huston, who was expected, was deferns were scattered over the cloth, and the lights were from pink candles in exquisite sticks or candelabra. A pretty effect was on the closed plano, a concert grand, where mirrors were placed to reflect the rooms, flowers and lights. About the mantels, where palms were used, they were combined with tall Bermuda lifes. The gathering was one of the pleasant events which the wives of the members have enjoyed during the session.

AN INDIANAPOLIS GIRL Miss Jeannette Orlopp, of this city, who is at the Cincinnati tollege of Music, will give a recital there this afternoon. Miss Orloop will play first violin in a quartet by Haydn; a concerto by Spohr, with a double quartet accompaniment and a group of four solos-one by Paganini, one by Wieniawski, one by Wilhelm; and the last by Ernst. The Musical Courier had this notice of Miss Orlopp's playing at a recent concert: "At the concert in question the violic solosis, was Miss Jeannette Orlopp, a young girl of lifteen who possess positive gentles. She has a strain of Russian bloof, and that tells you at once what bold, flery emotion throbs in her heart. She has a hand which unites with the strength of a man the supplieness of the softest rubber, and her playing, already far advanced technically, is still more remarkable for the depth and fervor of artistic conception with which it is filled. She played the Paust Pantasie," by Wiemawski, and The introduction of Rondo Capriciose in a house, Op. 48, of Saint Saens, both with a few claim.
